H. J. Amphlett, manager of the Lutz Mining Company's property in the Huachuca mountains, is in the city on business connected with the company.

J. W. Quinn of Chicago arrived here yesterday morning.

Andrew Henniger of New Orleans, who spent about a week here visiting his brother, has returned to his home.

C. R. Rinehart left the city yesterday morning going to the duck farm owned by a number of local sportsmen in the Sulphur Springs Valley. He returned home late last evening.

STRANGER LANDS IN JAIL.

A man giving his name as W. G. Reynolds is in jail here serving out a sentence imposed for carrying concealed weapons. Reynolds had been in the city only a short time when he was arrested by Deputy Frank Johnson on the above charge. From all accounts Reynolds was pretty well up to the city, less than thirty minutes, and he was carrying a .38 Smith & Wesson revolver, which is the time allowed by the law for a bearer of articles of warfare to deposit them. A comparison of the time of his arrest and the time of his arrival in the city proved that his claim was not good by a safe margin of time. It then became the painful duty of the court to find him guilty, which was done and a fine of $65 and a stay of ten days in jail was decided upon as punishment.

BLUNT HEARING TODAY.

The hearing of the charges of felonious assault against Howard Blunt and Hermann Schneider will come up in Judge Burdick's court this afternoon at 4:30, the time having been changed from 2 p. m. Blunt has already pleaded guilty to the charge of simple assault in Judge Burdick's court, the complainant in each case having been Miller.

CARD OF THANKS.

LEG BROKEN.

A Mexican boy who was playing at the foot of the waste dump was injured yesterday by having his leg broken by a boulder which rolled from the top when a car of waste was dumped. He was taken to the C. Q. hospital, where the limb was set.

RETURNS FROM COAST.

E. W. Spiers, assistant cashier of the Miners & Merchants Bank, returned to the city yesterday morning from Los Angeles, where he went a couple of weeks ago on the advice of his physician, being in bad health. He returned to the city as well as ever, after having spent most of the time visiting his mother and sister who are residing there.

HERE FROM NAZOBARI.

Mrs. James S. Douglas arrived in the city yesterday afternoon from Nazobari accompanied by her child, and will spend a couple of days here visiting relatives.

White, member of the firm of Chick & White contractors, returned to the city last evening from California, accompanied by his bride to whom he was married at her home in Petaluma about three weeks ago. After the ceremony the young couple traveled through the northern portion of the Golden State, ending their trip here last evening.

NOTED WOMAN IS DEAD IN TEXAS

Wife of Last President of Lone Star Republic Dies at Advanced Age.

HOUSTON, Tex., Jan. 2.—Mrs. Anson Jones died at noon on the last day of the old year, aged 36 years, 6 months, 7 days.

She was the widow of Dr. C. Anson Jones, the last president of the republic of Texas, and heard the runs of the Alamo from a camp on Clear Creek, and was president of the Daughters of the Republic of Texas.

Many relatives and friends, among them C. E. Ashie, her grandson, judge of the Eleventh judicial district here.

Three sisters survive her, two of them residing in El Paso—Mrs. Eliza A. Nations, mother of J. H. Nations, and Mrs. Miranda Ardoin, mother of W. T. Ardoin, also of El Paso. The other sister lives in Kansas City and is the wife of W. D. Johnson, a wealthy man of that city.

TO QUIT WISCONSIN.

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Jan. 2.—A majority of the big insurance companies doing business in Wisconsin have concluded arrangements to quit the state as a result of the new insurance laws, which are to become operative tomorrow. The chief objection to the new laws is the provision affecting the actuarial phase of the insurance question. Some penalties are also offending, while a provision requiring companies to send their policy holders the detailed statement of the source of their earnings and the nature of their expenses is regarded as impossible to comply with. While some of the provisions of the law are regarded as ambiguous by the insurance men, there is no ambiguity in respect to the penalties for its violation. The penalties provided for a violation of the law are $5000 for the company and $1000 for the agent, and the section specially provides for payment, even if the law is violated in ignorance or by misconstruction. The fines provide for punishment for the writing of a policy not strictly conformable with all the laws. The companies that have decided to withdraw their business in preference to conforming to the new law are carrying nearly $100,000,000 of insurance in Wisconsin.

The John D. Rockefeller, Jr., Bible class ought to get out a revised edition of the Scriptures that will please "teacher dear."

SENTENCES REDUCED BY MEXICAN COURT

Americans in Prison in Mexico Shown Mercy By Supreme Court of State.

CHIHUAHUA, Mex., Jan. 2.—In the state supreme court yesterday afternoon, Supreme Court Judge Dominguez reduced the sentences of Ole E. Finstad and Shoghty Coughner, from 12½ years in the penitentiary to seven years.

The two men were tried and convicted of killing Bob Rutherford, a Philadelphian, at Finstad's Achebue ranch near Chihuahua, about two and a half years ago. Coughner was badly wounded at the time and he and Finstad decided that bandits had attacked them while Rutherford was visiting them, but the Mexican authorities ignored this and proceeded on the theory that the men had fought among themselves.

Billy Glickert, of Philadelphia, a business partner of Rutherford, said there were tracks in the snow leading away from the house and that he was sure the story Finstad and Coughner was true, and that robbers had done the killing.

Mrs. Finstad and her daughter, of Los Angeles, are now with the prisoners here and will appeal the case to the supreme court of the republic and attempt to get justice for the men.

FOR SUNDAY CLOSING.

PHOENIX, Ariz., Jan. 2.—Keeping the promise he made the night the city council passed the ordinance closing Phoenix saloons on Sunday, beginning in January, Mayor Hughes, president of the Anti-Saloon league for Arizona and New Mexico, today filed with the board of supervisors a petition, asking that an election be held in Maricopa county to decide whether or not the sale of liquor shall be prohibited.

"No, I do not hope to win this election," said Dr. Hughes, when asked what he thought of his chances; "but there is a city election in Phoenix in April and one in all parts of the territory in November. We intend to raise this question in every county in Arizona, and make the fight so hard that no man can come to the legislature unless he is pledged for prohibition for Arizona."

No time is specified in which the supervisors must act on the petition though the law says that the election must be held within thirty days after they make an order calling an election. The petition of Dr. Hughes, signed by 605 people, reads as follows:

"I herewith beg leave to present to your honorable body a petition signed by over 500 qualified voters of Maricopa county, asking for an election to decide whether or not the sale of intoxicating liquors be prohibited in the county."

"We have not asked the business men to sign, as many might think their signing would interfere with their business interests. We have more than the required number to cover any duplicates or non-registered names."

"Several petitions from outside districts have not yet been returned, but we have decided not to wait for them."

DEEP PLOWING PROFITABLE.

SAN ANTONIO, Texas, Jan. 2.—Proof absolute of the profit resulting from deep fall plowing in the cultivation of corn and cotton has been demonstrated during the present season in a series of experiments carried on at the government experimental farm near this city. A field of cotton and one of corn was cultivated with deep sub-soil plowing, going down twelve or fifteen inches deep, and in contrast with shallow fall plowing the yield was in every instance ten per cent greater. The yield over fields adjacent plowed only in the spring was still greater.

The prime factor in successful cultivation, says F. B. Headlee, the expert in charge, is the conservation of winter rains. When the ground is not plowed in the fall the experiments show that nearly one-half of the rain fall is lost by running off. Where the ground is plowed and then harrowed, according to the Campbell method of dry farming, the winter rains are held in the ground, insuring good crops, no matter how dry summer. The experiments also show that deep sub-soil plowing practically prevents the disease called "root rot," which sometimes attacks cotton. Scientific methods of cultivation have entirely overcome danger from the drouths.

Although the present season was the driest and hottest in twenty-two years, according to statistics of the government bureau of weather here, the farmers have made almost without exception an average crop. Southern Texas has conquered the drouth and farmers who have done fall plowing have stored up over six inches of rain in the past four weeks. A green winter and a prosperous season are assured for next year. This coupled with continued high prices of farm products removes danger of hard times.
